By Sara Esther Crispe

I couldn't believe it. Not again. There I was, eight weeks pregnant, and I was spotting. It was light, but it was definitely blood, and it was the last thing I wanted to see.

I called my husband and told him I needed to go to the emergency room for an ultrasound. It was late at night but I just didn't want to wait until the morning. We managed to find a babysitter and once again headed to the familiar corridor at the Bikur Cholim hospital in Jerusalem. The very same corridor where I had been told previously on two occasions that my pregnancies hadn't made it.

So there I was, again. This time however, I had two healthy children at home which gave me the strength of knowing that maybe, just maybe, there would be good news.

After what seemed like an unbearably long wait, the nurse called me in and did the routine questioning. She wrote down my dates, my history, took my weight, everything. As it was so early in the pregnancy, I hadn't yet been to my doctor, but with my history, and especially with the spotting, I knew it couldn't wait.

The nurse did an ultrasound and kept moving the instrument over and over my stomach. I saw her straining her eyes, trying to determine what it was she was seeing, or worse, maybe what she wasn't seeing. She then turned to me and explained that she couldn't find the baby on the monitor. She saw the pregnancy sac but not the baby.

Having had this happen before, I knew what this meant, but she continued to explain that the ultrasound machines in the hospital weren't the greatest resolution and since it was so early in the pregnancy that I really needed to go to my doctor and let him do an ultrasound on a better machine. I wasn't sure if she was telling me this to make me feel better or because she really believed it, but I had no choice but to return home, unsure as to whether or not I was still pregnant.

The next morning I made an immediate appointment and came in to see the doctor. Again, I answered all the questions and it was determined that I should have been seven or eight weeks pregnant. According to my dates, the baby should have been quite visible at that point, with a strong heartbeat.

Once again, we attempted the ultrasound. Once again, there was nothing to be found. I stared alongside the doctor at the empty screen. A pregnancy sac with all the pregnancy symptoms, with no baby to be found. This time I knew it wasn't the resolution of the monitor. Though, once again, the doctor suggested that if it would make me feel better, I could wait another week and try again. I asked if there was any point in this. If there was any chance that in a week anything would be different. He admitted that nothing would change, but that it might, just might, give me more time to come to terms with

I am not one to put off dealing with things, so to me, another week was even more difficult if not cruel. If my pregnancy was truly over, I wanted it over. I wanted to be able to mourn and move on. Dragging out the inevitable accomplished nothing other than stretching my pain.

most likely they wouldn't be able to admit me for a few days because of the holiday. It was then that I realized that the next day was Purim. And not only was Purim supposed to be a joyous occasion, but, at the time, my husband and I were running a program for post highschool students, and I was supposed to be cooking the celebratory meal for thirty-plus girls for our huge annual Purim party.

Although I had wanted to take care of this right away, I certainly had no interest in spending Purim in the hospital. I figured I would go home, get through the holiday, somehow put a smile on my face, and then deal with my loss afterwards.

When my husband asked me if I had any plans on dressing up as I had in the past, I told him I was dressed up. I was walking around laughing, smiling, friendly, happy. That wasn't me. That wasn't how I felt. That was my Purim mask. That upbeat attitude was masking how inside I was mourning the loss of my baby. My joy was my costume.

There is the concept that when we enter the Jewish month of Adar, we are to be marbim b'simcha, we are to increase in our joy. This is the month in which we celebrate the holiday of Purim, a time where we were witness to revealed miracles. And yet, I never knew until this incident that an obligation to be happy is not always so easy. I had always found it strange that we are commanded to be joyous. Until that year. It took all of my strength to try and find joy, it took all of my strength to try and see the positive.

I somehow made it through that Purim. My students had a blast. I busied myself with the details of the party and getting my kids dressed up. As we read the Megillah, I reminded myself that just as G-d's name doesn't appear once in the whole story of Purim, and yet clearly G-d is present in every moment, so too, even though I was suffering, it was clear that I wasn't alone. I thought of how this holiday was celebrating an unbelievable turn of events from what could have been the most devastating massacre of the Jewish people into a day of celebration and freedom.

And I thought that maybe, just maybe, this related to my situation as well. A part of me berated myself for trying to think positively when there was nothing to think about. Two ultrasounds had already said the same thing. There was no baby. My pregnancy was over. And yet, the story of Purim also seemed closed and shut and then there was a miracle.

But when Purim was over, I figured I had no other choice but to register at the hospital. And yet, they wouldn't let me. With all of the annoyances of Israeli bureaucracy, there was a time limit for the doctor's slip, and the time had expired. I was told that in order to come to the hospital, I would once again need to go back to my doctor and get another slip from him. And no, he could not fax it. And no, it couldn't be a different doctor.

I realized that by the time I could get to the doctor and then to the hospital it would be Thursday, and I absolutely didn't want to spend Shabbat in the hospital. I figured I would just go on Sunday to the doctor (Sunday is a work day in Israel) and then to the hospital that evening.

It was Saturday evening as I was arranging babysitting for the next day when I heard sirens. One after the other after the other. From all directions to all directions until their wail became deafening. I knew there had been an attack. And I knew that unfortunately there must have been many casualties.

I turned on the radio to discover that a bomber had detonated himself about ten minutes away from my apartment, in the Beit Yisrael neighborhood, alongside a group of women who were standing with their baby carriages. I would soon learn that six young children were murdered in this attack, another four mothers were killed and over fifty women and children were seriously injured.

I sat in shock trying to comprehend this immense loss. Children, who just a day ago were running around in their Purim costumes, were now gone. How quickly the world could turn upside down.

I thought to myself that even though I had lost my baby, there was no comparison to the pain and loss that these families, their loved ones and the entire Jewish people had just experienced. There was no way I was going to try to go to the hospital. The hospitals needed all their resources to focus on the victims. Anything not critical would have to wait.

I waited another week, until the next Sunday, to finally return to the doctor for my new hospital admittance slip. I explained what I needed and he began to write and then, figuring I had nothing to lose, I asked if maybe, just maybe, since I was already in the office, he would be willing to do one more ultrasound.

He explained that my blood tests had shown that my hormone levels weren't high enough, and two ultrasounds had shown that there was no baby. Another ultrasound wasn't going to change anything.

I don't know where it came from, as I am not one to publicly show emotion, but I started to cry and cry and cry. And this doctor had no idea what to do with me. As a way of offering comfort, he asked if an ultrasound would make me feel better. And while I didn't really think it would, I was too overwhelmed to do anything other than nod my head "yes."

I didn't even bother lying down on the table as I wanted to see my sac one more time, clearly, and then move on. The doctor sighed as he began to move the instrument over my stomach. And then, within seconds, I was sure I saw something.

The doctor almost dropped the instrument as I asked in amazement, "Is that my baby? Is that a heartbeat?" To which all he could do was nod his head.

Once again he asked my dates, which indicated that I should have been almost ten weeks pregnant. And yet, I wasn't. According to the ultrasound, I was only six weeks pregnant. I was at the exact time when the baby is first able to be seen in an ultrasound. In the other two ultrasounds my baby wasn't showing, not because he wasn't there, but because he was too small to be seen.

"If you had done this ultrasound last week, we would not have been able to see the baby. What a miracle!" was all he could say. I left the office holding tightly in my hand the original form the doctor had given me for the D&C. That slip currently sits in my son's baby book.

Our baby boy was born exactly eight months later to the very day. We named him Netanel, meaning "gift from G-d."

Reprinted from an email of Chabad.org Magazine

Mistaken BurialBy Rabbi Yerachmiel Tilles

An epidemic struck the town Lodz, taking many lives. The municipal health authorities determined that the crowded living conditions in town were largely responsible, so they passed edicts limiting migration into the city as a preventive measure. Couples with children were among those forbidden to take up residence there.

It happened that a family was forced by economic necessity to move specifically to Lodz and to circumvent the law, They filed a form with the city describing themselves as a single mother with her brother, rather than a couple with children. Unfortunately, the wife was stricken with the plague and soon succumbed.

When the women from the Chevra Kadisha (burial society) came to the house to do the tahara (ritual purification) they were shocked to discover the bereaved children running to their supposed uncle with cries of "Tatty, Tatty!" (Daddy, Daddy). Not knowing what to think, they reported the situation to the chevra kaddisha.

Those in charge had very little time to decide what to do. The law required plague victims to be buried within the hour. Under pressure, with no time to investigate, they concluded that the couple must have been brother and sister who had married, chas veshalom (Heaven forbid) and thus they decided to bury the wife outside the cemetery, in the area reserved for apostates and the like.

The following night the woman came to her husband in a dream crying, screaming and wailing about what had been done to her, for she was being tormented in the next world as a result. The husband did not wish to take such a dream seriously, but the following night his wife returned, and again every night subsequently.

Besides describing her intense suffering, she mentioned that she had passed every judgment in the World to Come and was being punished exclusively as a result of her grave having been misplaced.

After the shiva (the week of mourning), the widower went to the chevra kaddisha to ask them to rectify the mistake. The stood by their decision, however, claiming that they could only work according to the official documents. The widower threatened to take them to a din Torah (trial according to Jewish law), which they agreed to quite willingly, and so Rabbi Eliyahu Chaim Meisel entered the picture.

The Rav heard out both sides and decided immediately in favor of the husband, whose honesty was patently obvious to him. The Chevra Kaddisha had a problem with this decision, though. As much as they were happy to assign a new, worthy spot for the body of the deceased, especially since she had now been discovered to have been a righteous person, having passed through the Beit Din shel Mala (Heavenly court) without harm, disinterring her body was impossible. Touching the bodies of the plague victims more that absolutely necessary to bury them, was against the law.

If the widower was willing to take the risk, though, and transfer the body himself, they were more than ready to accommodate him.

Rabbi Eliyahu Chaim thought the matter over and decided that the husband must do no such thing. The risk to his health and liberty were too great, and the woman would have to remain where she was.

Still, something would have to be done for her suffering soul and Rav Meisel undertook to recite Mishnayot for her neshama (soul) himself. What good this would do, the widower was not equipped to understand, unfortunately, and he left the Beit Din bitterly disappointed.

A few days later, though, the husband was seen glowing with joy, which he took great pleasure to explain. His wife had come to him once more in a dream and had reported the wonderful result of Reb Chaim's efforts. "You have no idea what kind of Rav you have!" she told him, "Ever since he started to learn Mishnayot, it is as if an iron fence has come down and separated me from the other graves outside the cemetery. Ever since, I have had peace."

With that, she took her leave from her husband, explaining that she would no longer be permitted to visit him, since such visitations were allowed only for reasons of extreme urgency.

Reprinted from an email of KabbalaOnline.org, from a recorded telling by Rabbi Yisrael Grossman, Rosh Yeshivat Pinsk-Karlin, which he heard from Rav NachumYosef Wilhelm z"l, who wa eyewitness to the entire incident.

To subscribe to THE JEWISH WEEKLY or to dedicate a month, please contact us by email: editor@thejweekly.org or www.thejweekly.org

With how many hands was Moshe holding the Luchot?

Torah Compilations

Ki Tisa

In Parshat Ki Tisa, we are told how Moshe came down from the summit of Mount Sinai with the Ten Commandments in his hands. And then when he saw the Israelites worshipping the golden calf the Torah says (Shemot 32:19), " אַר מִידוֹ מִידוֹ מִידוֹ מִידוֹ אַר מִידוֹ בּהַחַת. - He threw the tablets down from his hands."

But the word 'מידיון' - 'from his hands' - is missing a yud, and therefore it can be read literally as 'מידו' - 'from his hand'. What sense can we make of this?

Reb Yisrael Salanter gives a marvelous commentary. This is how he puts it. Moshe had two Luchot. One, which was held in his right hand, was the Luchot bearing the laws between ourselves and Hashem. The other, which he held in his left hand, bore the laws between ourselves and our fellow human beings. That's how Moshe came down the mountain.

When he saw the Bnei Yisrael worshipping the calf, he recognized that they were breaking the first two of the commandments: 1. We have to believe in Hashem, and 2. We cannot worship any idols. These commandments were on the Luchot held by his right hand and therefore the thought crossed his mind, "וישלך מירו" – that he would cast that tablet down from his 'hand' because what they were doing related only to the mitzvot between ourselves and Hashem, not to the mitzvot between ourselves and others.

But then Moshe realized that actually we should never separate the two Luchot - because ultimately our responsibility towards our fellow human beings must always be seen as an integral part of our relationship with Hashem and that's why "ינשלך מידו" ה' he cast down the Luchot from both of his hands. Here we have yet another reminder of the centrality of our responsibility towards others within the mitzvot of the Torah because ultimately what Hahem wants of us is to have a full deep and meaningful relationship with Him and at the same time to always see our responsibility to others as being part of our belief in Hashem.

So let's show Hashem how we have a deep and meaningful relationship with Him by praying together for the healing of all those injured, for the safe return of those taken as hostages, as well as Divine Protection for our brave IDF soldiers, police officers, medical professionals, firefighters, ZAKA members, security personnel and all those citizens protecting us in Israel as well as around the world, and for those who need healing, shidduchim, children or parnassah and may we be blessed to have the most awesome, gorgeous, beautiful, peaceful, healthy, amazing, relaxed, spiritual, safe, quiet and sweet Shabbat and Happy Purim.

The Jewish Weekly's PARSHA FACTS

NUMBER OF MITZVOT: 9 MITZVOT ASEH: 4 MITZVOT LO TAASEH: 5

NUMBEROF PESUKIM: 139 NUMBER OF WORDS: 2002 NUMBER OF LETTERS: 7424

HAFTORA:

Ashkenazim: Melachim I 18:1-39 Chabad & Sephardim: Melachim I 18:20-39 HAFTORA FOR THOSE IN JERUSALEM: Ashkenazim & Chabad: Shmuel I 15:2-34 Sephardim: Shmuel I 15:1-34

This year, (5785 / 2025) Ki Tisa in Jerusalem is a special Shabbat. It is Shabbat Purim:

The following only applies to those celebrating Purim Hameshulash in Parshat Ki Tisa through to Maftir.

The Maftir, from Shemot, the end of Parshat Beshalach, (17:8-16), On Purim we celebrate our deliverance from the death decree issued by the Persian prime minister Haman, who was of Amalekite ancestry. The brief Purim morning Torah reading recounts the original battle between Amalek and the Israelites, waged in the Sinai Desert nearly a millennium before the Purim events.

The Israelites arrive in Rephidim, and are attacked by the Amalekites. Moses charges Joshua to raise an army. On the following day, Joshua led the Israelites into battle, while Moses, Aaron and Hur went to an adjacent hilltop and prayed.

When Moses' arms were raised in prayer, the Israelites would prevail; when he would lower his hands, Amalek prevailed. Aaron and Hur supported Moses' arms until the Israelites defeated their foe. G-d commanded Moses to inscribe the story of Amalek's unprovoked attack in a book. "I will surely obliterate the memory of Amalek from beneath the heavens," G-d said.

Laws and Customs: Adar, Taanit Esther/Purim around the world T'DA

For Jerusalem only, see the Purim Hameshulash supplement Pages 5-8

According to Shulchan Aruch Harav, Mishna Berurah and Nittei Gavriel ear 5785 All times listed are for Jerusalem only as per www.myzmanim.com Based on Rabbi Shmuel Lesches's Halachah Sheets, Reviewed by Reb Elimelech Rabinowicz איליט", Rav of Tzeirei Kehal Chassidim, Shaarei Chessed een Rabinowicz בייה , Rav or Tzerrei Renai Chassidini, onaarei Chessed Compiled by Yossi Fraenkel in memory of his grandparents ר' ראובן בן הרב משה אליעזר הלוי ע"ה וחיה ברכה בת ר' נפתלי משה ע"ה רבינוביץ

ר' יוסף בן ר' אורי ע"ה ומלכה בת ר' יצחק צבי הלוי ע"ה פרנקל -

To subscribe: www.thejweekly.org or editor@thejweekly.org

MONTH OF ADAR

Some say it is a big Segula to fast on Erev Rosh Chodesh Adar and to say the whole Tehillim.

משנכנס אדר מרבין בשמחה - When Adar Begins we increase our joy. We increase our joy throughout the month of Adar, some say to increase the joy throughout Nissan too.

Some have the custom to hang up a sign of משנכנס אדר מרבין בשמחה.

ע 7™ ADAR (ז, באדר)

 7^{th} Adar is usually the fast day for Tzadikim and most say Tachanun, however some have the custom not to. As this year 7^{th} Adar falls on a Friday, one either fasts on Thursday or Sunday.

One should try to learn and do Mitzvot in memory of Moshe Rabeinu.

Most Chevrot Kadisha have the custom to fast and go to graves of Tzadikim and to ask forgiveness from the dead in case they didn't handle the person with respect when burying, some also say Selichot. This year most Chevrot Kadisha will do this on Thursday instead.

In some communities, the Rabbi would give a Dvar Torah in memory of Moshe Rabeinu as well as in memory of other rabbis and Tzadikim who died during the year.

A child who is born on 7th Adar should not be named Moshe after Moshe Rabeinu.

PURIM PREPARATIONS

An inspiring Purim is the product of diligent preparation. In the days prior to Purim, one should review the Halachot of Purim.

❤ PARSHAT ZACHOR (PARSHAT TETZAVEH, 8/3/25)

It is a Torah obligation for all men and boys over the age of Bar Mitzvah to hear Parshat Zachor. [One who absolutely cannot attend a Minyan should read this passage from a Sefer Torah or Chumash, with the Trop (cantillation) if he knows it.]

Although women are ordinarily exempt from Kriat Hatorah, there is a dispute with regards to Parshat Zachor. Therefore, it is ideal for women to attend Shul. However, a woman who is unable to easily attend Shul (e.g. she is tending to her small children) may instead read this passage from the Chumash.

Ordinarily, a Sefer Torah may not be moved to another location for one time use. Nevertheless, one may be lenient if necessary to facilitate the Kriah of Parshat Zachor.

Ideally, the Ba'al Koreh should be old enough to have a beard. [If this is not possible, a Bar Mitzvah boy should serve as Ba'al Koreh only if puberty is established.]

The Ba'al Koreh should read loudly and clearly, and have in mind to be Motzeh everyone listening to the Kriah. Similarly, all the listeners should have in mind to be Yotzei the Kriah and to fulfil the Mitzvah of remembering to eliminate Amalek.

The word זכר is first read with a Tzeirei זָנֶר, and then repeated again with a Segol - זָנֶר.

Some repeat just the word, some repeat the phrase מָּמְהָה אֶת זְּכֶר עֲמֵלֹק whilst others repeat the whole Passuk.

Av Harachamim is recited.

TAANIT ESTHER (THURSDAY 13/3/2025)

Taanit Esther is not one of the four public fasts instituted by the Nevi'im. Therefore, a Chattan and Kallah during the week of Sheva Brachot need not fast. Pregnant mothers, nursing mothers and anyone considerably weakened by illness or advanced age need not fast. [One should not be unduly strict in this regard.] Mothers who have difficulty fasting while tending to their young children should consult with a Rav.

When a Brit occurs on Taanit Esther, the Baalei Habrit (i.e. the Mohel, the Sandak, and the father of the baby) need not fast. However, all other attendees must fast. Therefore, the Seudah takes place at night, after the fast.

Aside from the exceptions enumerated above, all healthy adults must observe Taanit Esther scrupulously. If one inadvertently ate during the fast, one must immediately resume fasting.

Anyone below Bar/Bat Mitzvah need not fast. From the age of nine upwards, the custom is to train children to fast for several hours, as per the child's abilities. [One should not be unduly strict in this regard.]

An individual exempt from fasting should eat in private only, and avoid meat, delicacies or excessive intake. Children old enough to understand the concept of a fast should avoid delicacies and meat.

EATING PRIOR TO THE FAST

One may eat and drink the entire evening until dawn (4:39am), provided that either of these conditions are met (this does not apply to water which can be drunk anytime up to the beginning of the fast):

- One didn't go to sleep for the night. [Dozing off is not regarded as such.]
- One stipulated (preferably verbally) before going to sleep that he would eat upon waking. In this case, one recites the morning Brachot before eating.

LAWS OF FASTING

One shouldn't brush one's teeth nor rinse one's mouth. [If this will cause great aggravation, there is room to be lenient, provided that one leans forward to prevent any liquid from flowing down one's throat; that one uses substances unfit for consumption (e.g. Listerine); and that one rinses with less than 86 ml.]

One may take non-chewable pills for medical purposes, without water. A Rav should be consulted regarding other medicines.

One may shower, bathe and apply ointments and creams. [Even one who is strict on other fast days may nevertheless be lenient on Taanit Esther.]

One may not taste food to determine whether it requires salt/spices. However, when preparing food for a Seudat Mitzvah scheduled for the night following the fast, one may taste the food, provided that all these conditions are met:

- One expels it without swallowing.
- One tastes only an absolute minimum.
- One does not taste more than 86 ml in total throughout the day.

TAANIT ESTHER: SHACHARIT

During Shacharit, only the Chazzan recites Anenu. Therefore, a non-fasting individual shouldn't serve as Chazzan.

[In the unlikely event that the Chazzan is not fasting, or less than three congregants are fasting: Instead of reciting Anenu between Goal Yisrael and R'faenu, the Chazzan includes Anenu in the Brachah of Sh'ma Kolenu, and concludes the Brachah regularly; i.e. Shomea Tefillah.]

A Chazzan who forgot to recite Anenu:

- if he remembered before reciting Hashem's name at the conclusion of the the Brachah of R'faeinu, he recites Aneinu immediately, and then repeats the Brachah of R'faeinu;
- if he already concluded the Brachah of R'faenu, he recites Anenu in the Brachah of Sh'ma Kolenu, and concludes the Brachah with a double conclusion; i.e. Ha'one B'eit Tzarah V'shomeah Tefillah;
- if he already concluded the Brachah of Sh'ma Kolenu, he recites Anenu as a separate Brachah immediately after the Brachah of Sim Shalom.

One who is not fasting must still recite Selichot and Avinu Malkeinu.

One who davens without a Minyan omits the Yud-Gimel Midot-Harachamim.

Some hold that if Tachnun is not recited (e.g. when a Chattan is present), Selichot is still recited, whereas Avinu Malkeinu is not recited and some hold that Selichot ends after Viduy.

TAANIT ESTHER: KRIAH

The passage of Vayechal is read, provided that at least three congregants are fasting.

A non-fasting individual must still hear Kriat Hatorah of Vayechal, but is not called up for an Aliyah. [If he is the only Kohen or Levi, he should absent himself.] If he is called up, and refusing the Aliyah will cause him discomfort or minimize the honor of the Torah, he may accept the Aliyah. In any case, he may perform Hagbah or Gelilah.

A non-fasting individual shouldn't serve as the Ba'al Koreh, unless there is no one else who can

When the congregation recites the verses aloud, the Ba'al Koreh waits for silence before resuming. The one receiving the Aliyah begins these verses with the congregation, but ends with the Ba'al Koreh.

CONDUCT ON TAANIT ESTHER

One should learn Torah connected to the topic of the fast

One should give increased Tzedakah, especially before davening. It is proper to give the value of the forgone meals – especially if one is exempt from fasting.

The purpose of fasting is to arouse one to do Teshuvah. Idling away one's time, or partaking in joyous or entertaining activities, is not in the spirit of the fast.

One should be especially careful not to become angered.

MACHATZIT HASHEKEL

Before Mincha, all males over Bar-Mitzvah give three halves of the local currency. [In Israel, three half-shekel pieces.] Some hold to do it after Mincha.

One should not use Maaser money for his own Machatzit Hashekel.

In some communities it is also a custom to give Machatzit Hashekel on behalf of their wives and daughters, as well as for their sons under the age of Bar Mitzvah.

Where possible, boys below Bar Mitzvah should personally give Machatzit Hashekel.

It is preferable that the proceeds go to a Shul or Beit Midrash, just as the Machatzit Hashekel of old would be used for the Beit Hamikdash. Otherwise, the proceeds are distributed to the poor.

TAANIT ESTHER: MINCHA

Mincha is longer than usual (due to Kriat Hatorah and Haftorah); care should be taken to conclude before sunset (5:49pm).

Ideally, Kriat Hatorah should not begin prior to Mincha Gedolah (12:18pm). The Amidah may certainly not begin before then.

After Haftorah, most communities return the Torah to the Aron Hakodesh before Kaddish and in some communities, the Chazzan slowly recites Kaddish while the Torah is returned to the Aron Hakodesh.

If an individual forgot to recite Anenu in the Brachah of Sh'ma Kolenu, he may recite it in the passage Elokai N'tzor, before the second Yih'yu L'ratzon. If one didn't remember until he concluded the Amidah, he does not repeat it. [A non-fasting individual does not recite Anenu.]

The Chazzan recites Anenu between Goal Yisrael and R'faenu. [see TAANIT ESTHER: SHACHARIT] According to some, if after plag Hamincha, Birchat Kohanim with duchening is done. Chabad do not Duchan, however, the Chazzan does recite Birchat Kohanim towards the end of the Amidah.

Tachnun and Avinu Malkeinu are not recited, since it is Erev Purim.

♥ PURIM DRESS (IN JERUSALEM PURIM STARTS ON THURSDAY NIGHT 13/3/2025 TOGETHER WITH THE REST OF THE WORLD. HOWEVER, IN JERUSALEM, PURIM CONTINUES THRU SUNDAY NIGHT 16/03/2025, PLEASE READ OUR PURIM MESHULASH SUPPLEMENT AVAILABLE AT WWW.THEJWEEKLY.ORG)

One should wear Shabbat clothing throughout Purim. However there is a custom especially for children to wear masks or costumes. One should ensure that costumes do not contain some Shatnez.

Cross-dressing is absolutely forbidden throughout the year. Although the Rema and several other early Achronim rule leniently with regards to Purim, the overwhelming majority forbid it. This prohibition applies to all adults and children who are of the age of Chinuch.

Some people encourage children to shy away from dressing as Haman or other wicked people. [When a Purim play requires a child to act the part of Haman, the Lubavitcher Rebbe indicated that this role be played without considerable enthusiasm.]

V'AL HANISSIM

V'al Hanissim is recited in each Amidah of Purim. One should not intentionally skip V'al Hanissim to recite Kedushah or Modim with the Minyan.

If one forgot V'al Hanissim at the appropriate place in the Amidah, he may still recite it if he did not yet say Hashem's name at the end of that Brachah. After that point, he does not recite it.

If one forgot V'al Hanissim at the appropriate place in Bentching, he may still recite it if he did not yet say Hashem's name at the end of that Brachah. After that point, he should recite it as a Harachamon, as per the Nusach printed in many Siddurim and Birkonim.

END OF FAST

The fast concludes according to R' Tukaccinsky at 6:13pm, others hold up until 6:22pm.

MAARIV (THURSDAY NIGHT 13/3/2025)

One should endeavor to hear the Megillah as soon as possible. [If circumstances require it to be read beforehand, a Rav should be consulted.] Nevertheless, the Megillah may be read the entire night until (4:38am).

One may not perform any activity that may distract him prior to reading the Megillah. Therefore, one may not eat, drink, nap or perform work from half-hour prior to Tzeit (5:50pm) until after hearing the Megillah. [Nevertheless, if one feels ill or weak, one may eat or drink between Maariv and the Megillah reading. Even so, one should not eat more than a K'beitzah (57 grams) of bread or Mezonot – unless there are health concerns, in which case he should appoint a Shomer (guardian) to remind him to hear the Megillah.]

In many communities an Avel (within 12 months of a parent's passing or within 30 days of a spouse, child or sibling's passing) may not serve as Chazzan on Purim, in some communities (including Chabad) an Avel does act as Chazzan on Purim.

The Chazzan recites Kaddish Titkabel immediately after the Amidah. The Megillah is read immediately afterwards.

After the Megillah is concluded, V'atah Kaddosh is recited, followed by the entire Kaddish but without Titkabel.

MEGILLAH READING

All men and women over the age of Bar/Bat Mitzvah must hear the Megillah.

Children (both boys and girls) should also attend the Megillah reading and quietly follow along according to their ability, unless they are too young and will create a disturbance. [An infant who cries or makes noise should be taken out of Shul.] Ideally, one should attend a Megillah reading in a Shul where a large crowd has congregated. However, one can hear Megillah anywhere.

At the very least, one should hear the Megillah with a Minyan. [This applies even if he will be reading the Megillah later for individuals who could not attend a Minyan.] If this is also not possible, one should still endeavor to hear the Megillah with as many people as possible.

One does not fulfil the Mitzvah of Megillah when hearing it with the aid of a microphone, phone, radio, Zoom or any other electronic medium (A person who uses hearing aids should consult a Rav.)

A perfectly Kosher Megillah should be used. [If that is unavailable, a Megillah may still be used if disqualified words or altogether missing words do not occur at its beginning or end, nor do they comprise an entire section or the majority of the Megillah. Needless to say, the Ba'al Koreh must still recite every single word even when using a Megillah with missing words.]

One may assume that his friend consents to his Megillah being borrowed for the sake of performing the Mitzvah, as long as it remains in the vicinity at all times and it is returned to exactly the same place in the same condition.

It is preferable that the listener follows along in a proper Megillah and recites the words in a barely audible whisper – but only if he is sufficiently familiar with the proper pronunciation of the words

One who follows along from a Chumash should not recite the words at all, but must rather pay especially close attention to the Ba'al Koreh.

The Megillah is unrolled before the first Brachot are recited. [This also applies to everyone else following along with a proper Megillah.]

It is permissible to touch the parchment of the Megillah directly, unlike a Sefer Torah.

The Ba'al Koreh in Shul should be flanked by at least one person on his right and another on his left.

An Avel (within 12 months of a parent's passing or within 30 days of a spouse, child or sibling's passing) should not serve as the Ba'al Koreh in Shul, unless this is his regular function, or there is nobody as fluent as him.

Everyone should stand for the Brachot, unless it is too difficult. During the actual Megillah reading in Shul, the Ba'al Koreh must stand (and may lean for support if necessary), but those listening don't need to stand. Nevertheless, most people do stand.

When the Ba'al Koreh recites the Brachot, he should have in mind to be Motzeh everyone who is listening to the Brachot and the entire Megillah. Similarly, everyone in attendance should have in mind to be Yotzeh the Brachot and the entire Megillah, and should not say "Baruch Hu u'Varuch Shmoh". [If one accidently did so, he does not recite the Brachot again.]

If the Ba'al Koreh already heard the Megillah, the Brachot are recited by another man who did not yet hear the Megillah, and he is Motzeh everyone. If none of the men present are able to recite the Brachot, the Ba'al Koreh may recite it for them (or prompt them word by word).

When the Megillah is read for less than a minyan of men or for women only, and the Ba'al Koreh already heard the Megillah, the women recite the Brachot themselves (standing), however some hold that the last Brachah, Harav Et Riveinu is not said. They may either recite the Brachot individually, or have one woman be Motzeh all the others. The same applies when reading the Megillah for children under the age of Bar/Bat Mitzvah.

One should not speak from the time of the Brachot until after the Megillah reading (and the last Brachah) is concluded, because unnecessary speech is considered an interruption, and also prevents him from hearing every word of the Megillah.

Whenever Haman's name is mentioned (according to Chabad only alongside a title), one stamps his feet vigorously. Children should be encouraged in spinning their graggers and stamping out Haman's name. The Ba'al Koreh should wait for absolute silence before resuming.

The following Pesukim are read aloud by the congregation, followed by the Ba'al Koreh: 2:5, 8:15, 8:16, 10:3.

The Ba'al Koreh raises his voice at "Balailah Hahu" (6:1).

The Baal Koreh reads "Laharog Ul'abed; v'Laharog Ul'abed" (8:11) and "V'ish Lo Amad Bifeneyhem; V'ish Lo Omad Lifeneyhem" (9:3).

The congregation reads the ten sons of Haman quickly in one breath, from the words "Chamesh Meot Ish" until "Aseret" (9:6-10), followed by the Ba'al Koreh. [Despite the speed, the Ba'al Koreh should ensure that he is looking at each word in the Megillah as he pronounces it.]

Some give the Megillah a light shake at the words "Ha'igeret Hazot" (9:26) and "Ha'igeret Hapurim Hazot" (9:29). [This also applies to everyone else following along with a proper Megillah.]

The final Brachah is recited by the Ba'al Koreh only when the Megillah was read with a Minyan. [Some would recite this Brachah even when they heard or read the Megillah without a Minyan.]

At the end of the Megillah reading, some hold it should remain unrolled until the conclusion of the Brachah recited afterwards and some hold it should be rolled before the concluding Brachah. [This also applies to everyone else following along with a proper Megillah.]

INTERRUPTION DURING MEGILLAH

One who misses hearing even a single word is not Yotzeh the Megillah reading. Therefore, one should pay absolute attention whilst the Ba'al Koreh is reading the Megillah.

If one missed hearing a word, the best solution is to read from that word onwards, until he catches up with the Ba'al Koreh. [This is necessary because each word of the Megillah must be read/heard in the correct order.] This should be done even when one is following along in a Chumash and not a proper Megillah.

One need not recite the words with the Trop if this will detain or prevent him from catching up to the Ba'al Koreh. However, one must ensure that all the words are properly enunciated and vowelized.

If one missed a word and did not follow the guidelines above, or he left during the Megillah reading for even a short time, he must hear the Megillah again. Nevertheless, he does not need to start again from the beginning, but may instead resume hearing it from the place where he was interrupted. In such an instance, one does not repeat the Brachot unless he diverted his attention from the Mitzyah of Meaillah.

As mentioned above, one should not speak during the Megillah reading. If one said anything unrelated to the Megillah between the Brachot and the very start of Megillah, he needs to recite the Brachot again. If one spoke after this time – even matters unrelated to the Megillah – he does not repeat the Brachot again. Nevertheless, being that he could not have properly heard the words that the Ba'al Koreh was reading whilst he was talking or repeating the Brachot, he must follow the guidelines above for one who missed a word.

One should not pause unnecessarily whilst reading the Megillah. Nevertheless, if one paused even for an extended period of time, he may resume from the place where he paused. The exception is if he was forced to pause due to circumstances beyond his control, and the pause was for more time than it would have taken him to finish reading the Megillah. In such a case, one needs to start reading the Megillah again from the beginning.

PURIM NIGHT

The table should be set with a tablecloth and candles. Even though there is no requirement to eat a festive meal, one should still rejoice and eat something special in honor of Purim. [One should moderate any festivities in order that they do not interfere with Purim morning.]

It is customary to eat seeds on Purim, such as poppy Hamantashen, to commemorate the seeds that Esther ate when keeping Kosher in the king's palace.

SHACHARIT (FRIDAY 14/3/2025)

Ideally, Megillah should be read after sunrise (5:50am). Shacharit should be timed to read the Megillah as soon as possible. In extenuating circumstances, one may read the Megillah after dawn (4:38am).

Ideally, men should not eat before hearing the Megillah. If this is difficult, or there is any concern that one will be unable to concentrate during davening, one may snack, but should not eat a K'beitzah (57 grams) of Mezonot. Nevertheless, one should not be stringent if there are any health concerns.

V'al Hanissim is recited in the Amidah, and Tachnun is not recited.

If one did not hear Parshat Zachor on Shabbat, he should have in mind to fulfil his obligation through the Kriat Hatorah of Purim. [For this reason, the Ba'al Koreh should intend to be Motzeh anyone who did not hear Parshat Zachor on Shabbat.]

During Kriat Hatorah, the word זכר is first read with a Segol - זָבֶר, then again with a Tzeirei – זַבֶּר.

Some repeat just the word, some repeat the phrase אָתְ זְכֶּר עֲמֵלִיף whilst others repeat the whole Passuk. (the reverse of Parshat Zachor).

Some hold the Sefer Torah is returned to the Aron Hakodesh and some including Chabad hold that the Sefer Torah remains out during the Megillah reading, and is returned only after Kaddish Titkabel, as usual. [The one who holds the Sefer Torah remains seated throughout the Megillah reading and associated Brachot.]

If one did not yet give Machatzit Hashekel, he should do so before the Megillah reading.

When the Brachah of Shehecheyanu is recited, all should have in mind the other Mitzvot of Purim; i.e. Mishloach Manot, Matanot La'evyonim and Seudat Purim. [Preferably, the Gabbai or Ba'al Koreh should announce this.]

One should wear his Tefillin until after the Megillah reading (and davening).

A Brit performed at Shul, is conducted right before Megillah. A Brit performed at home is held after davening.

WORKING ON PURIM

One should not perform manual labor on Purim, unless for the sake of Purim or a Mitzvah; or he is so poor that he is without food; or in order to prevent a real loss.

One may also do light office-work or sell goods and merchandise, but should not allow that to distract him from the joy of Purim.

One may instruct a non-Jew to perform manual labor on Purim.

MISHLOACH MANOT

All men and women over Bar/Bat Mitzvah should send at least one Mishloach Manot. Children (of the age of Chinuch) should also do so. [The Lubavitcher Rebbes would distribute three Mishloach Manot packages – to a Kohen, Levi and Yisrael.]

The Mishloach Manot should contain at least two types of (respectable) ready-to-eat foods and/or beverages other than water. [The Lubavitcher Rebbes would include a food item as well as a beverage.]

Men should send their Mishloach Manot to men, and women should send their Mishloach Manot to women

Some authorities hold that Mishloach Manot should be delivered through a Shliach. The Shliach may even be a child

The Mishloach Manot should be both sent and delivered during Purim day (and not the night before or after).

It is praiseworthy to give Mishloach Manot to many people. [Technically, one doesn't need to adhere to the above-mentioned Halachot with regards to any additional optional Mishloach Manot that one sends. Nevertheless, it is commendable to do so.]

When giving Mishloach Manot to one who is not yet observant, one should remind him to make the appropriate Brachot on each food item.

Mishloach Manot may not be sent to an Avel (within 12 months of a parent's passing or within 30 days of a spouse, child or sibling's passing). However, the Mishloach Manot may be sent to an Avel's spouse or child. The Avel himself is required to send Mishloach Manot, but should send simple food items.

When sending Mishloach Manot in a new (nondisposable) utensil that requires Tevilat Keilim, it should be performed by the recipient and not by the sender. This is because Tevilat Keilim needs to be performed by the end user.

If the sender already Toveled the utensil, the recipient must still Tovel the utensil, but without a Brachah. The same applies if the recipient doesn't know whether the sender already Toveled the utensil. Therefore, the sender should inform the recipient (e.g. with a label) that the item has not yet been Toveled, in order that the recipient may Tovel it with a Brachah. [It is also best that the Mishloach Manot food not directly touch a non-Toyeled utensil.1

≪ MATANOT LA'EVYONIM

All men and women over Bar/Bat Mitzvah should give Matanot La'evyonim to at least two needy people. Children (of the age of Chinuch) should also do so.

One should use the local currency, and not use Maaser money. [This does not apply to any additional optional Matanot La'evyonim that one gives.]

Matanot La'evyonim must go specifically to needy people (or Tzedakah organizations devoted to that purpose), and not to other Tzedakah causes.

One need not assess the financial circumstances of a poor person before giving him Matanot La'evyonim. Rather, "we give to whomever extends a hand."

Matanot La'evyonim should be delivered during Purim day (and not the night before or after).

If there are no poor people present, one must physically set aside Matanot La'evyonim — a verbal pledge is insufficient — and distribute it at the earliest opportunity. Alternatively, one should appoint a Shliach who can distrivute it for him in a different location.

It is preferable to allocate more of one's funds to Matanot La'evyonim than to Mishloach Manot and Seudat Purim.

One who thought to give a certain sum as Matanot La'evyonim may not retract, even though his pledge wasn't verbal.

SEUDAT PURIM

One must feast and rejoice on Purim. In fact, the joy of Purim is even greater than the joy of a regular Chaq.

Since Purim is also Erev Shabbat, the feast is conducted earlier in the day so as not to detract from the Shabbat Seudah, some hold to start ideally before Chatzot (approximately 11:48am throughout Israel).

Since Purim is also Erev Shabbat, the Seudah is conducted earlier than usual, ideally in the morning hours. Otherwise, the feast should start as early as practical in the afternoon, but no later than the beginning of the tenth hour (2:47pm), concluding early enough so as not to interfere with the onset of Shabbat or the Shabbat meal. [If one did not begin before the tenth hour, he may – and should – still conduct a feast afterwards, finishing in time for Shabbat.]

Despite the hustle-and-bustle of Purim, one should make a point of learning Torah prior to the Seudah, for a short period of time. Since Purim is thirty days before Pesach, one should begin reviewing the laws of Pesach.

One should feast among family and friends, because a larger crowd increases the joy. One should also invite guests to the Seudah.

The table should be set with a tablecloth. Some have the custom of lighting candles.

The prevalent custom is to wash, and eat meat and other delicacies. It is also customary to eat Kreplach.

If one wishes to begin the Seudah in one place and continue it and bentch elsewhere, he must have this in mind when reciting the Brachah of Hamotzie.

One should share words of Torah at the meal, especially words of Torah that are connected with the Purim story.

It is customary to share a Purim Torah. The intention is not to use Torah to make a joke or mockery, G-d forbid. Rather one should share a Dvar Torah of the sort that brings joy to those who hear it.

If someone didn't start their Seudah until later they should still eat their Seudah even at a very late hour of the day.

If someone's Seudah lasts until Shabbat then it is sufficient to pause, cover the Challah or bread on the table, and make Kiddush.

Assuming the person making Kiddush had already made a Hagafen before making Kiddush then no Hagafen should be made, rather the Brachah of Kiddush should be recited on its own.

There is no need to wash again and make Hamotzi after Kiddush. Rather once Kiddush is made the bread may be uncovered and a Kebeitzah (according to Rab Chaim Noeh 55 grams and according to the Chazon Ish, 100 grams) should be eaten and then people can resume eating.

V'al Hanissim is recited even when bentching after dark, as long as the meal began before nightfall and one has not yet davened Maariv. [For this reason, it is preferable to bentch before davening Maariv.]

* Please note: remember to daven Maariv after the Seudah is finished.

WINE AND ALCOHOL

Chazal instituted that one should drink wine on Purim "until he doesn't know the difference between Arur Haman and Baruch Mordechai". Many Poskim understand this to mean that one must drink to the point of intoxication.

At the same time, the Poskim caution against becoming inebriated when there is even the slightest chance of negative consequences. This especially applies to anyone with a medical issue or a weak constitution; to young teenagers; to anyone whose behavior may not completely conform with Halachah when inebriated (such as forgetting to make a Brachah properly, bentch or daven Maariv); to anyone who may cause damage or injury to himself or others; or to anyone who may cause a Chillul Hashem when inebriated. Anyone in this category should discharge their obligation by drinking only slightly more wine or alcohol than usual.

It goes without saying that drinking and driving can be deadly and is a severe violation of Halachah. It is also dangerous for an intoxicated person to cross the road himself, and he should therefore be escorted home safely.

The Mitzvah of drinking wine or alcohol does not apply to women and children.

The Lubavitcher Rebbe established a year-round ban against people under the age of forty drinking more than four Kelitchlach (shot cups) of alcohol. Some years, the Rebbe made an exception for Purim. However, on many other occasions, the Rebbe stated explicitly that this ban extends even to Purim. The Rebbe would especially caution the Bochurim about this, and suggested that they fulfil their obligation by increased involvement in "Yeyna shel Torah" (the wine of Torah).

№ MOTZOEI PURIM - SHABBAT

The Mitzvot and joy of Purim should not interfere with Shabbat preparations. One should try to immerse in a Mikvah after midday, and to give Tzedakah for Shabbat prior to candle-lighting (5:10pm).

Hodu and Pasach Eliyahu are recited before Mincha.

Av Harachamim and Tzidkotecha are not recited on Shabbat.

Every year, it is fitting to rejoice and eat something special in honor of Shushan Purim. The Lubavitcher Rebbe explained that this is even more pronounced on such a year, given that the Purim feast was conducted earlier on Friday due to Shabbat, and Shabbat would surely not wish for the Purim joy to be detracted on its account.

Many don't eat Matzah in the thirty days prior to Pesach, but do eat Matzah balls or foods containing Matzah meal

One who does not eat the Shabbat Seudah or daven Maariv on Friday night. (because of drunkenness etc.) will be obligated to make Kiddush (of Friday night) on Shabbat morning. This is because they are still obligated in it since they didn't make it on Friday night. Likewise one cannot eat or drink (even water) Shabbat morning until Kiddush is made.

Shacharit should be finished before making Kiddush Shabbat morning.

If one didn't eat a Shabbat Seudah Friday night then they should eat three meals Shabbat day.

SUNDAY 16[™] OF ADAR

This day is celebrated as the last day of Purim HaMeshulash in Yerushalayim and other walled cities. Elsewhere, Tachnun is recited as usual. Even so, it is appropriate to rejoice and eat something special.

For the year 5785

for those in Jerusalem

According to Shulchan Aruch Harav, Mishna Berurah and Nittei Gavriel All times listed are for Jerusalem only as per www.myzmanim.com Based on Rabbi Shmuel Lesches's Halachah Sheets, iewed by Reb Elimelech Rabinowicz מיליט", Rav of Tzeirei Kehal Chassidim, Shaarei Chessed Compiled by Yossi Fraenkel in memory of his grandparents

> ר' ראובן בן הרב משה אליעזר הלוי ע"ה וחיה ברכה בת ר' נפתלי משה ע"ה רבינוביץ ר' יוסף בן ר' אורי ע"ה ומלכה בת ר' יצחק צבי הלוי ע"ה פרנקל

To subscribe: www.thejweekly.org or editor@thejweekly.org

MONTH OF ADAR

Some say it is a big Segula to fast on Erev Rosh Chodesh Adar and to say the whole Tehillim.

משנכנס אדר מרבין בשמחה - When Adar Begins we increase our joy. We increase our joy throughout the month of Adar, some say to increase the joy throughout Nissan too.

Some have the custom to hang up a sign of משנכנס אדר מרבין בשמחה.

ע 7[™] ADAR (ז, באדר)

7th Adar is usually the fast day for Tzadikim and most say Tachanun, however some have the custom not to. As this year 7th Adar falls on a Friday, one either fasts on Thursday or Sunday.

One should try to learn and do Mitzvot in memory of Moshe Rabeinu.

Most Chevrot Kadisha have the custom to fast and go to graves of Tzadikim and to ask forgiveness from the dead in case they didn't handle the person with respect when burying, some also say Selichot. This year most Chevrot Kadisha will do this on Thursday instead.

In some communities, the Rabbi would give a Dvar Torah in memory of Moshe Rabeinu as well as in memory of other rabbis and Tzadikim who died during the year.

A child who is born on 7th Adar should not be named Moshe after Moshe Rabeinu.

PURIM PREPARATIONS

An inspiring Purim is the product of diligent preparation. In the days prior to Purim, one should review the Halachot of Purim.

PARSHAT ZACHOR (PARSHAT TETZAVEH, 8/3/25)

It is a Torah obligation for all men and boys over the age of Bar Mitzvah to hear Parshat Zachor. [One who absolutely cannot attend a Minyan should read this passage from a Sefer Torah or Chumash, with the Trop (cantillation) if he knows it.]

Although women are ordinarily exempt from Kriat Hatorah, there is a dispute with regards to Parshat Zachor. Therefore, it is ideal for women to attend Shul. However, a woman who is unable to easily attend Shul (e.g. she is tending to her small children) may instead read this passage from the Chumash.

Ordinarily, a Sefer Torah may not be moved to another location for one time use. Nevertheless, one may be lenient if necessary to facilitate the Kriah of Parshat Zachor.

Ideally, the Ba'al Koreh should be old enough to have a beard. [If this is not possible, a Bar Mitzvah boy should serve as Ba'al Koreh only if puberty is established.]

The Ba'al Koreh should read loudly and clearly, and have in mind to be Motzeh everyone listening to the Kriah. Similarly, all the listeners should have in mind to be Yotzei the Kriah and to fulfil the Mitzvah of remembering to eliminate Amalek.

The word זכר is first read with a Tzeirei זכר - , and then repeated again with a Segol - זֶּכֶר.

Some repeat just the word, some repeat the phrase תַּמְחָה אָת זַכֶּר עָמְלֹק whilst others repeat the whole Passuk.

₹ TAANIT ESTHER (THURSDAY 13/3/2025)

Taanit Esther is not one of the four public fasts instituted by the Nevi'im. Therefore, a Chattan and Kallah during the week of Sheva Brachot need not fast. Pregnant mothers, nursing mothers and anyone considerably weakened by illness or advanced age need not fast. [One should not be unduly strict in this regard.] Mothers who have difficulty fasting while tending to their young children should consult with a Ray.

When a Brit occurs on Taanit Esther, the Baalei Habrit (i.e. the Mohel, the Sandak, and the father of the baby) need not fast. However, all other attendees must fast. Therefore, the Seudah takes place at night, after the fast.

Aside from the exceptions enumerated above, all healthy adults must observe Taanit Esther scrupulously. If one inadvertently ate during the fast, one must immediately resume fasting.

Anyone below Bar/Bat Mitzvah need not fast. From the age of nine upwards, the custom is to train children to fast for several hours, as per the child's abilities. [One should not be unduly strict in this regard.]

An individual exempt from fasting should eat in private only, and avoid meat, delicacies or excessive intake. Children old enough to understand the concept of a fast should avoid delicacies and meat.

EATING PRIOR TO THE FAST

One may eat and drink the entire evening until dawn (4:39am), provided that either of these conditions are met (this does not apply to water which can be drunk anytime up to the beginning of the fast):

- One didn't go to sleep for the night. [Dozing off is not regarded as such.]
- One stipulated (preferably verbally) before going to sleep that he would eat upon waking. In this case, one recites the morning Brachot before eating.

№ LAWS OF FASTING

One shouldn't brush one's teeth nor rinse one's mouth. [If this will cause great aggravation, there is room to be lenient, provided that one leans forward to prevent any liquid from flowing down one's throat; that one uses substances unfit for consumption (e.g. Listerine); and that one rinses with less than 86 ml.]

One may take non-chewable pills for medical purposes, without water. A Rav should be consulted regarding other medicines.

One may shower, bathe and apply ointments and creams. [Even one who is strict on other fast days may nevertheless be lenient on Taanit Esther.]

One may not taste food to determine whether it requires salt/spices. However, when preparing food for a Seudat Mitzvah scheduled for the night following the fast, one may taste the food, provided that all these conditions are met:

- One expels it without swallowing.
- One tastes only an absolute minimum.
- One does not taste more than 86 ml in total throughout the day.

TAANIT ESTHER: SHACHARIT

During Shacharit, only the Chazzan recites Anenu. Therefore, a non-fasting individual shouldn't serve as Chazzan.

[In the unlikely event that the Chazzan is not fasting, or less than three congregants are fasting: Instead of reciting Anenu between Goal Yisrael and R'faenu, the Chazzan includes Anenu in the Brachah of Sh'ma Kolenu, and concludes the Brachah regularly; i.e. Shomea Tefillah.]

A Chazzan who forgot to recite Anenu:

- if he remembered before reciting Hashem's name at the conclusion of the the Brachah of R'faeinu, he recites Aneinu immediately, and then repeats the Brachah of R'faeinu;
- if he already concluded the Brachah of R'faenu, he recites Anenu in the Brachah of Sh'ma Kolenu, and concludes the Brachah with a double conclusion; i.e. Ha'one B'eit Tzarah V'shomeah Tefillah;
- if he already concluded the Brachah of Sh'ma Kolenu, he recites Anenu as a separate Brachah immediately after the Brachah of Sim Shalom.

One who is not fasting must still recite Selichot and Avinu Malkeinu.

One who davens without a Minyan omits the Yud-Gimel Midot-Harachamim.

Some hold that if Tachnun is not recited (e.g. when a Chattan is present), Selichot is still recited, whereas Avinu Malkeinu is not recited and some hold that Selichot ends after Viduy.

TAANIT ESTHER: KRIAH

The passage of Vayechal is read, provided that at least three congregants are fasting.

A non-fasting individual must still hear Kriat Hatorah of Vayechal, but is not called up for an Aliyah. [If he is the only Kohen or Levi, he should absent himself.] If he is called up, and refusing the Aliyah will cause him discomfort or minimize the honor of the Torah, he may accept the Aliyah. In any case, he may perform Hagbah or Gelilah.

A non-fasting individual shouldn't serve as the Ba'al Koreh, unless there is no one else who can do so.

When the congregation recites the verses aloud, the Ba'al Koreh waits for silence before resuming. The one receiving the Aliyah begins these verses with the congregation, but ends with the Ba'al Koreh.

CONDUCT ON TAANIT ESTHER

One should learn Torah connected to the topic of the fast.

One should give increased Tzedakah, especially before davening. It is proper to give the value of the forgone meals – especially if one is exempt from fasting.

The purpose of fasting is to arouse one to do Teshuvah. Idling away one's time, or partaking in joyous or entertaining activities, is not in the spirit of the fast.

One should be especially careful not to become angered.

MACHATZIT HASHEKEL

Before Mincha, all males over Bar-Mitzvah give three halves of the local currency. [In Israel, three half-shekel pieces.] Some hold to do it after Mincha.

One should not use Maaser money for his own Machatzit Hashekel.

In some communities it is also a custom to give Machatzit Hashekel on behalf of their wives and daughters, as well as for their sons under the age of Bar Mitzvah.

Where possible, boys below Bar Mitzvah should personally give Machatzit Hashekel.

It is preferable that the proceeds go to a Shul or Beit Midrash, just as the Machatzit Hashekel of old would be used for the Beit Hamikdash. Otherwise, the proceeds are distributed to the poor.

TAANIT ESTHER: MINCHA

Mincha is longer than usual (due to Kriat Hatorah and Haftorah); care should be taken to conclude before sunset (5:49pm).

Ideally, Kriat Hatorah should not begin prior to Mincha Gedolah (12:18pm). The Amidah may certainly not begin before then.

After Haftorah, most communities return the Torah to the Aron Hakodesh before Kaddish and in some communities, the Chazzan slowly recites Kaddish while the Torah is returned to the Aron Hakodesh.

If an individual forgot to recite Anenu in the Brachah of Sh'ma Kolenu, he may recite it in the passage Elokai N'tzor, before the second Yih'yu L'ratzon. If one didn't remember until he concluded the Amidah, he does not repeat it. [A non-fasting individual does not recite Anenu.]

The Chazzan recites Anenu between Goal Yisrael and R'faenu. [see TAANIT ESTHER: SHACHARIT] According to some, if after plag Hamincha, Birchat Kohanim with duchening is done. Chabad do not Duchan, however, the Chazzan does recite Birchat Kohanim towards the end of the Amidah.

Tachnun and Avinu Malkeinu are not recited, since it is Erev Purim.

♥ V'AL HANISSIM

V'al Hanissim is NOT recited tonight or tomorrow but only on Shabbat.

END OF FAST

The fast concludes according to R' Tukaccinsky at 6:13pm, others hold up until 6:22pm.

← PURIM DRESS (IN JERUSALEM PURIM STARTS ON THURSDAY NIGHT 13/3/2025 TOGETHER WITH THE REST OF ISRAEL, IN JERUSALEM, PURIM CONTINUES THRU SUNDAY NIGHT 16/03/2025)

One should wear Shabbat clothing throughout Purim. However there is a custom especially for children to wear masks or costumes. One should ensure that costumes do not contain Shatnez.

Cross-dressing is absolutely forbidden throughout the year. Although the Rema and several other early Achronim rule leniently with regards to Purim, the overwhelming majority forbid it. This prohibition applies to all adults and children who are of the age of Chinuch

Some people encourage children to shy away from dressing as Haman or other wicked people. [When a Purim play requires a child to act the part of Haman, the Lubavitcher Rebbe indicated that this role be played without considerable enthusiasm.]

MAARIV (THURSDAY NIGHT 13/3/2025)

Because we hear megillah this year on a day that is not Purim for us, one must hear megillah with a Minyan. A woman who cannot hear megillah reading in shul should strive to hear megillah in a place where there are ten women

One should endeavor to hear the Megillah as soon as possible. [If circumstances require it to be read beforehand, a Rav should be consulted.] Nevertheless, the Megillah may be read the entire night until (4:38am).

One may not perform any activity that may distract him prior to reading the Megillah. Therefore, one may not eat, drink, nap or perform work from half-hour prior to Tzeit (6:21pm) until after hearing the Megillah. [Nevertheless, if one feels ill or weak, one may eat or drink between Maariv and the Megillah reading. Even so, one should not eat more than a K'beitzah (57 grams) of bread or Mezonot – unless there are health concerns, in which case he should appoint a Shomer (guardian) to remind him to hear the Megillah.]

In many communities an Avel (within 12 months of a parent's passing or within 30 days of a spouse, child or sibling's passing) may not serve as Chazzan on Purim, in some communities (including Chabad) an Avel does act as Chazzan on Purim.

The Chazzan recites Kaddish Titkabel immediately after the Amidah. The Megillah is read immediately afterwards.

After the Megillah is concluded, V'atah Kaddosh is recited, followed by the entire Kaddish but without Titkabel.

MEGILLAH READING

All men and women over the age of Bar/Bat Mitzvah must hear the Megillah.

Children (both boys and girls) should also attend the Megillah reading and quietly follow along according to their ability, unless they are too young and will create a disturbance. [An infant who cries or makes noise should be taken out of Shul.]

Ideally, one should attend a Megillah reading in a Shul where a large crowd has congregated. However, one can hear Megillah anywhere.

At the very least, one should hear the Megillah with a Minyan especially as this year we do not read it on Purim. [This applies even if he will be reading the Megillah later for individuals who could not attend a Minyan.] If this is also not possible, one should still endeavor to hear the Megillah with as many people as possible.

One does not fulfil the Mitzvah of Megillah when hearing it with the aid of a microphone, or over the phone or radio.

A perfectly Kosher Megillah should be used. [If that is unavailable, a Megillah may still be used if disqualified words or altogether missing words do not occur at its beginning or end, nor do they comprise an entire section or the majority of the Megillah. Needless to say, the Ba'al Koreh must still recite every single word even when using a Megillah with missing words.]

One may assume that his friend consents to his Megillah being borrowed for the sake of performing the Mitzvah, as long as it remains in the vicinity at all times and it is returned to exactly the same place in the same condition.

It is preferable that the listener follows along in a proper Megillah and recites the words in a barely audible whisper — but only if he is sufficiently familiar with the proper pronunciation of the words.

One who follows along from a Chumash should not recite the words at all, but must rather pay especially close attention to the Ba'al Koreh.

The Megillah is unrolled before the first Brachot are recited. [This also applies to everyone else following along with a proper Megillah.]

It is permissible to touch the parchment of the Megillah directly, unlike a Sefer Torah.

The Ba'al Koreh in Shul should be flanked by at least one person on his right and another on his left.

An Avel (within 12 months of a parent's passing or within 30 days of a spouse, child or sibling's passing) should not serve as the Ba'al Koreh in Shul, unless this is his regular function, or there is nobody as fluent as him.

Everyone should stand for the Brachot, unless it is too difficult. During the actual Megillah reading in Shul, the Ba'al Koreh must stand (and may lean for support if necessary), but those listening don't need to stand. Nevertheless, most people do stand.

When the Ba'al Koreh recites the Brachot, he should have in mind to be Motzeh everyone who is listening to the Brachot and the entire Megillah. Similarly, everyone in attendance should have in mind to be Yotzeh the Brachot and the entire Megillah, and should not say "Baruch Hu u'Varuch Shmoh". [If one accidently did so, he does not recite the Brachot again.]

If the Ba'al Koreh already heard the Megillah, the Brachot are recited by another man who did not yet hear the Megillah, and he is Motzeh everyone. If none of the men present are able to recite the Brachot, the Ba'al Koreh may recite it for them (or prompt them word by word).

When the Megillah is read for less than a minyan of men or for women only, and the Ba'al Koreh already heard the Megillah, the women recite the Brachot themselves (standing), however some hold that the last Brachah, Harav Et Riveinu is not said. They may either recite the Brachot individually, or have one woman be Motzeh all the others. The same applies when reading the Megillah for children under the age of Bar/Bat Mitzvah.

One should not speak from the time of the Brachot until after the Megillah reading (and the last Brachah) is concluded, because unnecessary speech is considered an interruption, and also prevents him from hearing every word of the Megillah.

Whenever Haman's name is mentioned (according to Chabad only alongside a title), one stamps his feet vigorously. Children should be encouraged in spinning their graggers and stamping out Haman's name. The Ba'al Koreh should wait for absolute silence before resuming.

The following Pesukim are read aloud by the congregation, followed by the Ba'al Koreh: 2:5, 8:15, 8:16, 10:3.

The Ba'al Koreh raises his voice at "Balailah Hahu" (6:1).

The Baal Koreh reads "Laharog Ul'abed; vLaharog Ul'abed" (8:11) and "V'ish Lo Amad Bifeneyhem; V'ish Lo Omad Lifeneyhem" (9:3).

The congregation reads the ten sons of Haman quickly in one breath, from the words "Chamesh Meot Ish" until "Aseret" (9:6-10), followed by the Ba'al Koreh. [Despite the speed, the Ba'al Koreh should ensure that he is looking at each word in the Megillah as he pronounces it.]

Some give the Megillah a light shake at the words "Ha'igeret Hazot" (9:26) and "Ha'igeret Hapurim Hazot" (9:29). [This also applies to everyone else following along with a proper Megillah.]

The final Brachah is recited by the Ba'al Koreh only when the Megillah was read with a Minyan. [Some would recite this Brachah even when they heard or read the Megillah without a Minyan.]

At the end of the Megillah reading, some hold it should remain unrolled until the conclusion of the Brachah recited afterwards and some hold it should be rolled before the concluding Brachah. [This also applies to everyone else following along with a proper Megillah.]

INTERRUPTION DURING MEGILLAH

One who misses hearing even a single word is not Yotzeh the Megillah reading. Therefore, one should pay absolute attention whilst the Ba'al Koreh is reading the Megillah.

If one missed hearing a word, the best solution is to read from that word onwards, until he catches up with the Ba'al Koreh. [This is necessary because each word of the Megillah must be read/heard in the correct order.] This should be done even when one is following along in a Chumash and not a proper Megillah.

One need not recite the words with the Trop if this will detain or prevent him from catching up to the Ba'al Koreh. However, one must ensure that all the words are properly enunciated and yowelized.

If one missed a word and did not follow the guidelines above, or he left during the Megillah reading for even a short time, he must hear the Megillah again. Nevertheless, he does not need to start again from the beginning, but may instead resume hearing it from the place where he was interrupted. In such an instance, one does not repeat the Brachot unless he diverted his attention from the Mitzvah of Megillah.

As mentioned above, one should not speak during the Megillah reading. If one said anything unrelated to the Megillah between the Brachot and the very start of Megillah, he needs to recite the Brachot again. If one spoke after this time – even matters unrelated to the Megillah – he does not repeat the Brachot again. Nevertheless, being that he could not have properly heard the words that the Ba'al Koreh was reading whilst he was talking or repeating the Brachot, he must follow the guidelines above for one who missed a word.

One should not pause unnecessarily whilst reading the Megillah. Nevertheless, if one paused even for an extended period of time, he may resume from the place where he paused. The exception is if he was forced to pause due to circumstances beyond his control, and the pause was for more time than it would have taken him to finish reading the Megillah. In such a case, one needs to start reading the Megillah again from the beginning.

TAANIT ESTHER NIGHT

The table should be set with a tablecloth and candles. Even though there is no requirement to eat a festive meal, one should still rejoice and eat something special in honor of Purim. [One should moderate any festivities in order that they do not interfere with the morning.]

SHACHARIT (FRIDAY 14/3/2025)

Ideally, Megillah should be read after sunrise (5:50am). Shacharit should be timed to read the Megillah as soon as possible. In extenuating circumstances, one may read the Megillah after dawn (4:38am).

Ideally, men should not eat before hearing the Megillah. If this is difficult, or there is any concern that one will be unable to concentrate during davening, one may snack, but should not eat a K'beitzah (57 grams) of Mezonot. Nevertheless, one should not be stringent if there are any health concerns.

Al Hanissim is not recited in the Amidah, and Tachnun is not recited.

If one did not yet give Machatzit Hashekel, he should do so before the Megillah reading.

When the Brachah of Shehecheyanu is recited, all should have in mind the other Mitzvot of Purim; i.e. Mishloach Manot, Matanot Lo'evyonim and Seudat Purim, even though we will not perform Mishloach Manot and the Seudat Purim until Sunday. [Preferably, the Gabbai or Ba'al Koreh should announce this.]

One should wear his Tefillin until after the Megillah reading (and davening).

№ MATANOT LO'EVYONIM

All men and women over Bar/Bat Mitzvah should give Matanot Lo'evyonim to at least two needy people. Children (of the age of Chinuch) should also do so.

One should use the local currency, and not use Maaser money. [This does not apply to any additional optional Matanot Lo'evyonim that one gives.]

Matanot Lo'evyonim must go specifically to needy people (or Tzedakah organizations devoted to that purpose), and not to other Tzedakah causes.

One need not assess the financial circumstances of a poor person before giving him Matanot Lo'evyonim. Rather, "we give to whomever extends a hand."

Matanot Lo'evyonim should be delivered during the Friday (and not the night before).

If there are no poor people present, one must physically set aside Matanot Lo'evyonim – a verbal pledge is insufficient – and distribute it at the earliest opportunity.

It is preferable to allocate more of one's funds to Matanot Lo'evyonim than to Mishloach Manot and Seudat Purim.

№ PURIM (SHABBAT 15/3/2025)

V'al Hanissim is recited in each Amidah of Shabbat.

If one forgot V'al Hanissim at the appropriate place in the Amidah, he may still recite it if he did not yet say Hashem's name at the end of that Brachah. After that point, he does not recite it.

If one forgot V'al Hanissim at the appropriate place in Birchat Hamazon, he may still recite it if he did not yet say Hashem's name at the end of that Brachah. After that point, he should recite it as a Harachamon, as per the Nusach printed in many Siddurim and Birkonim.

During Shacharit, we take out two Sifrei Torah.

[If a Minyan, by accident, read Kriat Hatorah for Purim on Friday, they should only take out one Sefer Torah and read the regular Kriat Hatorah and Haftorah for Parshat Tatzaveh.]

We read Parshat Tetzaveh from the first Torah and from the second Torah, the reading for Purim as Maftir.

The Haftorah is the same as last week, for Parshat Zachor.

Some hold that the mitzvot of Seudat Purim and Mishloach Manot are observed on Shabbat. Although this opinion is not generally accepted, the custom is to serve an extra side course and some extra wine at the Shabbat meal in honor of Purim and to have guests at the table to fulfill Mishloach Manot. (Alternatively, one shares some of one's Shabbat meal with a neighbor).

It is customary to eat seeds on Shabbat and Sunday of Purim, such as poppy Hamantashen, to commemorate the seeds that Esther ate when keeping Kosher in the king's palace.

PURIM (SUNDAY 16/3/2025)

This is when we fulfill the mitzvot of the seudah and Mishloach Manot, and the general simcha of Purim, costumes and all. Nevertheless, we do not say Al Hanissim in either davening or Birchat Hamazon. We also do not say Tachanun, nor do we read from the Torah. One should wear Shabbat clothes (unless one chooses to wear a costume).

MISHLOACH MANOT

All men and women over Bar/Bat Mitzvah should send at least one Mishloach Manot. Children (of the age of Chinuch) should also do so. [The Lubavitcher Rebbes would distribute three Mishloach Manot packages – to a Kohen, Levi and Yisrael.]

The Mishloach Manot should contain at least two types of (respectable) ready-to-eat foods and/or beverages other than water. [The Lubavitcher Rebbes would include a food item as well as a beverage.]

Men should send their Mishloach Manot to men, and women should send their Mishloach Manot to women.

Some authorities hold that Mishloach Manot should be delivered through a Shliach. The Shliach may even be a child.

According to the Chazon Ish and some other poskim, one should distribute Mishloach Manot on Friday. (As mentioned above, most poskim contend that we give Mishloach Manot on Sunday.) According to the Chazon Ish, It is a hidur (stringency) to give one person Mishloach Manot on Friday to fulfill the minimal requirement of the mitzvah.

It is praiseworthy to give Mishloach Manot to many people. [Technically, one doesn't need to adhere to the above-mentioned Halachot with regards to any additional optional Mishloach Manot that one sends. Nevertheless, it is commendable to do so.]

When giving Mishloach Manot to one who is not yet observant, one should remind him to make the appropriate Brachot on each food item.

Mishloach Manot may not be sent to an Avel (within 12 months of a parent's passing or within 30 days of a spouse, child or sibling's passing). However, the Mishloach Manot may be sent to an Avel's spouse or child. The Avel himself is required to send Mishloach Manot, but should send simple food items.

When sending Mishloach Manot in a new (non-disposable) utensil that requires Tevilat Keilim, it should be performed by the recipient and not by the sender. This is because Tevilat Keilim needs to be performed by the end user.

If the sender already Toveled the utensil, the recipient must still Tovel the utensil, but without a Brachah. The same applies if the recipient doesn't know whether the sender already Toveled the utensil. Therefore, the sender should inform the recipient (e.g. with a label) that the item has not yet been Toveled, in order that the recipient may Tovel it with a Brachah. [It is also best that the Mishloach Manot food not directly touch a non-Toveled utensil.]

SEUDAT PURIM

One must feast and rejoice on Purim. In fact, the joy of Purim is even greater than the joy of a regular Chaq.

The feast is conducted in the late afternoon. Hence, Mincha is davened earlier than usual, prior to the Seudah.

Despite the hustle-and-bustle of Purim, one should make a point of learning Torah prior to the Seudah, for a short period of time. Since Purim is thirty days before Pesach, one should begin reviewing the laws of Pesach.

A fair part of the meal should take place during the daylight hours. At the very least, one should eat a Kezayit before sunset (5:52pm).

If circumstances do not allow one to conduct his Seudah in the late afternoon, he may eat this meal anytime during the daylight hours.

One should feast among family and friends, because a larger crowd increases the joy. One should also invite guests to the Seudah.

The table should be set with a tablecloth. Some have the custom of lighting candles.

The prevalent custom is to wash, and eat meat and other delicacies. It is also customary to eat Kreplach.

If one wishes to begin the Seudah in one place and continue it and bentch elsewhere, he must have this in mind when reciting the Brachah of Hamotzie. [If he did not have this in mind, he should not relocate during the meal. However, if he already did so, he may bentch in the place where he concluded eating.]

One should share words of Torah at the meal, especially words of Torah that are connected with the Purim story.

It is customary to share a Purim Torah. The intention is not to use Torah to make a joke or mockery, G-d forbid. Rather one should share a Dvar Torah of the sort that brings joy to those who hear it.

* Please note: remember to daven Maariv after the Seudah is finished.

WINE AND ALCOHOL

Chazal instituted that one should drink wine on Purim "until he doesn't know the difference between Arur Haman and Baruch Mordechai". Many Poskim understand this to mean that one must drink to the point of intoxication.

At the same time, the Poskim caution against becoming inebriated when there is even the slightest chance of negative consequences. This especially applies to anyone with a medical issue or a weak constitution; to young teenagers; to anyone whose behavior may not completely conform with Halachah when inebriated (such as forgetting to make a Brachah properly, bentch or daven Maariv); to anyone who may cause damage or injury to himself or others; or to anyone who may cause a Chillul Hashem when inebriated. Anyone in this category should discharge their obligation by drinking only slightly more wine or alcohol than usual.

It goes without saying that drinking and driving can be deadly and is a severe violation of Halachah. It is also dangerous for an intoxicated person to cross the road himself, and he should therefore be escorted home safely.

The Mitzvah of drinking wine or alcohol does not apply to women and children.

The Lubavitcher Rebbe established a year-round ban against people under the age of forty drinking more than four Kelitchlach (shot cups) of alcohol. Some years, the Rebbe made an exception for Purim. However, on many other occasions, the Rebbe stated explicitly that this ban extends even to Purim. The Rebbe would especially caution the Bochurim about this, and suggested that they fulfil their obligation by increased involvement in "Yeyna shel Torah" (the wine of Torah).

№ INTERCITY ISSUES

Due to reasons too detailed to discuss here, someone who intends to spend either Thursday or Friday night out-of-town should ask a Rav how these trips impact halachically. Also, someone from out of town who intends to be in Jerusalem for one of the megillah readings should also ask a Rav.

